Space Cat is a 2D arcade-style platformer where the player(s) must collect as much gems, coins and diamonds as possible while surviving the asteroid terrain, which is constantly being destroyed by missiles, and regenerated by UFOs. There is also a side-scrolling story-based Adventure Mode, a multiplayer Battle Mode, a time trial-based Boss Rush mode, and multiplayer Minigames. In all of these modes, you can collect special coins to unlock hats for your cat to wear. Unlike a lot of this game's success, this game is really special to me. Its a challenging platformer that I spent a lot of time playing. When I first started playing it, and I was just starting out, I never thought I'd get this far. A lot of the time it seemed I was playing for a long time for just 1 star or a special. But really, I got really into it. I would play for hours and hours and hours, for every star. And it really shaped my style of gaming when I was younger. I really think that if it had been any other game out there, I would not be able to get as far as I have been. But really, I know that it's really special to me and I have it on my shelf next to my NES and SNES games, and one of my favourite games of all time, Super Metroid. Cave Story was the perfect game for my style of gaming when I was young. I loved how hard the game was, and how it was really challenging. It's not a very easy game, and it has a real skill cap that is very hard to understand. You really don't know whats coming next in this game, and you really do have to think for yourself, and really pay attention to what's going on. The game is not very difficult, and its a bit easy to get to your first star. But once you get your first star, you will find that is very hard to get 2 stars. It really shaped my style of gaming, because a lot of games nowadays are just a lot of easy kills. A game like this is really hard and doesn't give you a lot of kills at all. I think that I couldn't get as far as I have if there weren't really no limit or no hard, and I just couldn't get that first star. I have to really work hard, and play for a very long time, and maybe

My love for him brought me down to the darkest depths of depression and I couldn't recover. He told me it was impossible for him to love me. I felt disgusted, rejected, deprived of hope and was crying my eyes out. A few days later, our love was convincing me to not only take this seriously but to actually do what he suggested. It's time to make a statement. Take your best shot. It's time to ROCK. While the 1950s were a time of "short-skirt" parties, there were also a lot of blue-collar people with blue-collar problems getting in trouble. Jump Gunners is a side-scrolling action game where players take on the role of an American Gunfighter... or Gunner! When blue-collar town of Springfield's peace-loving citizens weren't out on the town getting into trouble, they found themselves knocking over liquor stores, robbing banks and dealing with an onslaught of gangsters. They needed help. Enter Greenway's "Jumpers". Jumpers were tough, strong men who could stop bullet sponges and wield fire axes with their teeth. They were also the only cops in town, and they needed the town's "screw-ups" to be put on some ice. Jump Gunners takes a few liberties with the era to make sure that you got some action when you play, and it does so in a fun, tongue-in-cheek way. The 1950s western culture is brought to life with a sense of humor as you'll play as anthropomorphic robots, gamblers, cowboys, gangsters, and everything in between. Oh yes, the list of personalities is HUGE. This 3D platformer is jam-packed with 2-player split-screen action, large amounts of unlockable characters and weapon combinations to use, and the biggest list of random level challenges I've seen in a platformer to date. Blue-collar problems? Time to make a statement. Take your best shot. It's time to ROCK.
